Mobile Device Enrollment Agreement with Anabaptist Central

This agreement is between Anabaptist Central, hereafter known as Device Owner and _____, hereafter known as Device User. By this agreement, the Device User understands that a device enrolled with the management program makes the Device Owner the administrator of the device and can materially modify the capabilities of the device and limit the content accessible to the device. The Device User understands that such enrollment is irreversible except by contacting the Device Owner for terminations. Device administration and content filtering services are provided from IT companies separate from the Device Owner.

Technical Support: The Device Owner maintains technical support services via phone and email for feature requests, support requests, and terminations.

Device Transfer or End of Life: The Device User understands that the Device Owner must be contacted to un-enroll the device before transferring to another Device User, or at the end of the device's useful life.

Device User Rights: The Device User retains the right to purchase a device and select from device administration profiles, or to un-enroll from Device Owner administration. The Device User certifies that he/she is a member of the Anabaptist Church Community represented by Anabaptist Central. If the user terminates his relationship with an Anabaptist Church, this agreement is discontinued, and his device must be un-enrolled from Device Owner administration. This agreement is based on provisions extended by Apple in a Device Enrollment Program. As such, it is subject to revision or termination by Apple at any time without notice to the Device User.
